

XM Radio is an excellent service which has completely changed my enjoyment of radio. Commercial radio on the other hand is a pain to endure. XM Radio's weather and traffic service is particularly helpful in trip planning and I am at a loss to understand NAB's objection, other than fear of competition. I am opposed to this self-serving attempt to allow the market to work in the American tradition.